An interesting relic of the great struggle recently received from overseas by Mrs. Isabella Johnston of 77 Blackwell street is a helmet sent her by her son, William Johnston, now located somewhere in Germany. The framework is of metal, while the outside covering is of a black patent leather with a brown leather lining. The customary spike adorns the top, while the German eagle is placed on the front. An inscription underneath the eagle reads, "Mit Gott für König und Vaterland." Initials of the owner, no doubt, are those inside the headgear, "J. R. 89," while on the eagle are the letters "F. R." The manufacturer's name, Korn, Klager & Co., 1916, is also to be seen within. The helmet weighs one pound.

A special memorial service will be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd at 10:30 next Sunday morning, in honor of the boys who have lost their lives in the service. The new rector, Rev. David C. Huntington, will have charge of the service, taps will be sounded, the choir will render appropriate music and the entire service will be one of merit. The rector knows of three young men from the church who are to be honored in the service, Lieut. George F. Watkins, Arthur Manson John Coburn, and John that there may be others who gave their lives for their country. Coming to the parish so recently, Mr. Huntington will appreciate it greatly if any knowing of others from the church who have died either in camps in this country or overseas will notify him by calling 75-M.

Last evening the members of the Hedding Methodist Episcopal church tendered a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bishop, who have been connected with the church and its various activities for nearly a score of years. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop are soon to leave for Keeseville, N. Y., to make their home, and many took advantage of the occasion to express regret at their departure. A brief program had been prepared, and C. S. Andrews, who had been superintendent of the Sunday school during many years of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop's stay in the city, presided. Mrs. Charles H. Wishart gave a very enjoyable reading of "Sir Lancelot's Vision of the Holy Grail," and responded to an encore. Harold Blackmore sang a very pleasing tenor solo, and a chorus of young ladies, members of Mrs. Bishop's class in the Sunday school, sang twice during the evening. The Sunday school superintendent and the pastor gave voice to the appreciation felt by all for the service which both Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have given. The pastor, Rev. B. G. Lipsky, presented Mrs. Bishop a picture from the Ladies and Pastor's union, and also presented Mr. Bishop a sum of money from the men present. Ice cream and wafers were served, and all present were given an opportunity to bid Mr. and Mrs. Bishop goodbye.

The plans of Oldsmobile day, to-morrow, are to be carried out exactly as previously stated. A special train will leave this city at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon to carry the visiting Oldsmobile men to the quarries where they will be taken in hand and shown the different points of interest by members of the Granite Manufacturers' association and by the quarry owners. It is expected that fully 200 persons will be present for that and also to attend the convention.

City Clerk Mackay is still distributing the distinctive Barre medals which the city council voted for soldiers and sailors who served during the recent war, whether at home or abroad; and he is carefully taking the record of each man to whom a medal is given in order that a complete record of Barre's participation in the service can be secured, if possible. The medals are very much in demand, and applications have been made by some who did not come within the requirements established by the council as those entitled to the medals.

Mrs. H. S. Bassett of Fairview street has received a letter from her son, Cook H. E. Bassett, with the 3024 F. A. located at Camp de Longue, Bordeaux, France. Excerpts from the letter, written Feb. 18, are as follows: "It was rumored that our mail had been held in the States because we were sailing soon, but I guess they are sending it now, for I have received several letters in the last few days. None before for a month. The same is true with the other men, for only mail from here in France arrived. I was talking with Grover Keneffick the other night and at the same time saw Bob Macle of the 18th balloon company, a Barre fellow. Saw Bob Knox to-day and he was feeling fine. Haven't seen any Times lately. To-day I took an inoculation preventing pneumonia. It is not compulsory to take it, but few men who have taken it are sick, so I thought it was worth getting. Many of the boys are getting furloughs for five days and I expect to go soon. A few are going to Paris and the majority to resort in the vicinity of the Spanish border or the seashore near the Pyrenees. I think I shall stay near Bordeaux. We expected to be home before now, according to all rumors, but something has held us up and as we don't get any official dope, I suppose we'll keep on believing rumors and dreaming of home until we go home. Everybody plays more or less faith in rumors, but they float by like a beautiful soapbubble and burst in the air. We are having more fair weather than previously, but last night we had a terrible wind storm and rain. The wind continues to-day but the temperature is above freezing. Best wishes and hopes of seeing you soon. Homer."

BUILDING NO BIG SHIPS.

Great Britain Curtains Program on Dreadnoughts.

London, Wednesday, March 12—Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Thomas J. MacNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, said no dreadnought battleships were under construction on Dec. 31 last. He added that four dreadnought battle cruisers were under construction on that date, but work on three, which were in very early stages, had been abandoned and the ships upon which they were being built had been freed for merchant ship construction.

On the same date, he said, Great Britain had 33 dreadnought battleships and nine dreadnought battle cruisers, all of which were in commission except one battleship and one battle cruiser. So far as he knew, no capital ships will be laid down this year.

MONTPELIER

P. J. Connolly Again Chosen as Chief of Police Department.

The first meeting of the new Montpelier city council took place Wednesday evening, all members being present excepting Alderman Bowers, who had to attend another meeting. Frank Smith of ward six was elected president of the council. Most of the business, which included the election of the officers, was left until a meeting to be held to-night.

The appointment of P. J. Connolly as chief of police was confirmed. The fire committee was authorized to investigate needed improvements at the fire station and report. That committee was also authorized to investigate a condition about the St. Onge stoned relative to the covering of a hydrant by stone chips.

V. B. Persons was appointed fire warden for the city. Use of the city hall to the Rebekahs to operate a fair at some future date was granted.

Lieut. Gen. Warlow of the British observing service has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lyons, the latter of whom is his sister, and has gone back to Montreal, from where he goes again to England. Lieutenant Warlow has seen more service than any man who has returned to Montpelier from the world war. He was first in the infantry in France, having been on all the fronts. Then he went into the observation service. This took him to Egypt, where he fought under General Allenby. He was also in Salonica, and in Turkey at the signing of the Turkish armistice. He was also in observation service at the Dardanelles and in Italy and following the armistice in Turkey. Then he went to Egypt for a time. He has been in service since 1915 and has escaped wounds.

Frank Muzzy has resumed work as janitor of the Central Vermont station after several weeks' illness.

J. E. Maun, superintendent of the Central Vermont railway, was in the city Wednesday.

Mrs. Z. S. Stanton and Miss Jessie Stanton of Roxbury visited in the city yesterday.

Judge Stanley C. Wilson was a local visitor to-day.

Repairs are being made on the roof over the portico of that portion of the Central Vermont station which is used by the express company.

The names of J. W. Titcomb, formerly fish and game commissioner, and H. J. Conant of East Montpelier are among those being urged for the appointment. However, it is understood that the present commissioner has the best chances of the appointment at the present time.

G. A. Morris of Cabot has been appointed administrator of the estate of Julia Morris, late of that town. Theron Meador has settled the account of Clara McGoff as guardian of Donald McGoff, a minor living in Montpelier. A hearing relative to the settlement of the account of A. Rossi, administrator of the estate of J. E. Indini, took place yesterday, but the matter was not completed.

INJURED BOY LIVED AN HOUR.

Stephen Cavino of Poultny was Whirled About Shafting.

Poultny, March 13.—Stephen Cavino, 16-year-old son of Andrew Cavino, was fatally injured while at work at the Eureka slate quarry at North Poultny about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and died about an hour later.

The boy was at work on a machine used to punch the nail holes in roofing slate when his clothing became caught on rapidly revolving shafting, his body being terribly bruised and his head cut. He was removed to his home and Dr. O. F. Clough of Poultny was summoned, but the youth succumbed to his injuries about 5:30 o'clock, hemorrhages from the lungs resulting from his injuries.
